

FUTURE FORCES FORUM and Multinational Logistics Coordination Centre Cancels the Logistics Capability Conference 2020

After careful consideration of the current anti-coronavirus measures including travel restrictions affecting many of the invited or already confirmed speakers and official delegates at the Logistics Capability Conference 2020, planned as a part of the FUTURE FORCES FORUM this October in Prague, the organizers decided not to conduct the Logistics Capability Conference this year.

The international nature of the LCC, ongoing travel restrictions, and collision with postponed exercises and training, made it impossible for us to hold the LCC this time at the expected level of professional speakers and audience.

However, the other FFF expert panels and Future Forces Exhibition are still being prepared and all LCC delegates are still cordially welcome to participate in the FFF 2020 program and networking as a speakers, audience, or visitors (please see the annex).

All FFF 2020 expert panels and exhibition are free of charge for all participants registered online at the following link: www.future-forces-forum.org/events/registration The online registration will be launched during September.

Please follow our websites, social channels or sign up for our newsletter to stay updated about the upcoming events.

Respectfully,
